

Innovative Insurance Services LLC Ensure Your Future Today

Purpose

Innovative Insurance Services LLC (IIS) wants to create an “epidemic” of good quality information! To educate you and yours about what is available, what you believe you need or want, and about the things you never heard about.

ALL our seminars are never in order to sell you anything specific, and no mentioning of any company or product will ever take place during the seminar unless specifically requested.

Basic Guidelines

- Each seminar is 30 minutes long. Then, up to 30 minutes to ask questions. From experience, those 30 minutes are well used.
- No selling of anything will be engaged. No mentioning of any specific product or a company will be given as a reference of a recommendation.
- The presenter business cards will be available. There is no mentioning of any company name or product on those cards but to IIS LLC.
- There is no charge for any presentation/seminar/lecture.

Our Belief

At IIS we don't believe in selling (description of the features). We believe in marketing (description of the benefits). Our approach is different than of others by not intending to sell you anything.

We hope that if you learn from our expertise, you will trust us enough to provide you with personal attention that may assist you in the future. But in no way we will try to sell anything. We just love to educate ... and we know it is a “strange” concept.
